

I am a Flight Attendant and disagree with the use of cellular phones onboard a full aircraft due to security issues and safety issues. In the case of an emergency; we as crewmembers will not be able to communicate to 200 people on their cell phones. This is a bad idea.

The airfone is available for people to make calls inflight. Obviously this is all about the money that the FCC will be getting on their high money bids and approval process.